

```
if (document.addEventListener) { document.addEventListener("DOMContentLoaded", window.print(), false); } // for Internet Explorer (using conditional comments) /@cc_on @/ /*@if (@_win32) document.write(""); var script = document.getElementById("__ie_onload");
script.onreadystatechange = function() { if (this.readyState == "complete") { window.print();
// call the onload handler } }; /@end @/
```

Dec 12-19, 2009

Posted by: Angie in Untagged on Dec 22, 2009

They're baaaaaaaack! Thanks to the keen eyes of Captain Wagner the elusive whale shark was spotted this week after many without. Several other boats were in the area but the Another Time managed to wait out the chaos and get several good sightings and photos. This one was approximately 25 feet and hung out on the surface for a good half hour. We spotted the shark again the next day in the same area--what a week! Eric and Jennifer were extremely spoiled as they were the only divers on the boat these days and had some amazing private encounters. I have a feeling they will be back!

Divemaster AI